ASK MEDICAL SENTENCES Rutland Judge Accommodates Two Inebriates—One From Burlington.

Rutland, Oct. 8.—That the new law providing that persons convicted of a third offense of intoxication may be sent to the State Hospital for the Insane at Waterbury, if sentence is not working a hardship on inebriates was demonstrated here to-day, when two prisoners asked to be sent to Waterbury rather than Rutland county jail. City Judge F. G. Swinerton accommodated both of them.

One of the men who made the request was Cornelius Rice of this city, who has already been at the hospital twice, serving ninety months in all. He would have had only 67 days at the county jail, but must stay in Waterbury six months. The other respondent who shied at the Rutland institution was Frank Burr of Burlington. He had only two convictions here and would not have been eligible, but he assured Judge Swinerton that he had been convicted for being drunk at Burlington in addition to his Rutland record.
